The Future of e-Pharmacy Regulations

Mitigating Contract Risk through Legal Tech Software

In our attempt to gain clarity on the regulatory regime around e-pharmacies we will be focusing on the future of e-pharmacy regulations in this blog.

The Draft E-pharmacy rules is by far the most significant attempt made to regulate the e-pharmacy sector. The rules were published by the Department of Health and Family Welfare on 28th of August 2018. The risks of illegal online pharmacies, use of forged prescriptions, leakage of sensitive personal information, etc. needed to be addressed on an immediate basis. The draft rules define many concepts which came up with the advent of E-pharmacies. Let us take a look at the new rules and the impact it might have.
